

Resume: April 2000

Name: David A. Fredrickson

Education: Ph.D. (Anthropology) University of California, Davis, 1973.
M.A. (Anthropology) University of California, Davis, 1966.
B.A. (Anthropology) University of California, Berkeley, 1948.

Experience: Faculty member, Department of Anthropology, Sonoma State University 1967-1991; Professor Emeritus 1992-present. Director, Anthropological Studies Center, SSU, 1974-1992; Director Emeritus 1992-present. Coordinator, Northwest Information Center, Historical Resources Information System, SSU, 1975-1995.

Principal Investigator within the regulatory context for more than 2000 cultural resources projects, including interdisciplinary studies that encompassed prehistoric and historic archaeology, history, and ethnography. Administered contracts with Federal agencies, State agencies, County and Municipal agencies, and with private entities. Larger projects have ranged in size from $30,000 to more than $2.75 million.

Administrative duties included project design and implementation, budget development, program management, supervision of field and office staff, and other tasks. Have conducted archaeological survey and reconnaissance, site significance evaluations, archaeological data recovery, data analysis, and report writing; have developed archaeological management plans; have been responsible for and carried out studies of archaeological collections related to Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act obligations.

Evidence of Experience: Published more than 50 professional papers, presented more than 80 professional papers, organized and chaired more than 20 symposia and sessions on archaeology and cultural resource management.

Served terms as president and vice president of the Society for California Archaeology; served as president of the International Association for Obsidian Studies; served on Board of Trustees of the California Preservation Foundation; and serve on Board of Editors for the Journal of California and Great Basin Anthropology.

Authored more than 200 unpublished archaeological reports (and scores of brief letter reports) and co-authored more than 200 archaeological and cultural resource reports, including ones treating major surveys, archaeological excavation, significance evaluation, and data recovery.

Member of the International Association for Obsidian Studies; Society for California Archaeology; Central California Archaeological Foundation. Enrolled on the Register of Professional Archaeologists.

Selected Honors: Certificate of Recognition, YA-KA-AMA Indian Education and Development, Inc., Healdsburg, California, 1979. Exceptional Merit Service Award, Sonoma State University, Rohnert Park, California, 1984. Presidential Award for Outstanding Contributions in the Service of Archaeology, Society for California Archaeology, 1985. Certificate of Commendation for Superior Achievement in Promotion of History, California Committee for the Promotion of History, 1985. Brainard Jones Preservation Award, Sonoma County Historical Society, 1988. Life Time Achievement Award, Society for California Archaeology, 1993. Award for Excellence in Cultural Resources Management, Society for American Archaeology, 1998.